

AP English Literature and Composition
Summer 2017
Gray's Creek High School
Ms. Laura Booth, instructor

1. Please email me to confirm receipt of this assignment.
laurabooth@ccs.k12.nc.us
2. Print the article "How to Mark a Book" by Mortimer J. Adler
http://chuma.cas.usf.edu/~pinsky/mark\_a\_book.htm
3. Read Adler's article, highlighting and annotating throughout.
4. Purchase the book How to Read Literature Like a Professor by Thomas C. Foster. READ and annotate this book following the guidelines presented by Adler in the article.
5. Create a review notecard (3 x 5 is fine) for each of the first 26 chapters of the Foster book. Each notecard should be handwritten. Put the chapter number on the top line along with a title of your choice. Write at least three main points from each chapter, including important concepts, terms, and/or definitions.
6. Purchase a copy of The Princeton Review's Cracking the AP English Literature & Composition Exam 2017 and Wuthering Heights by Emily Bronte (preferably the Barnes and Noble edition so we can all be on the same page). We will use these books in class, but you do not need to do anything with it yet. ☺
7. Please bring the article, books, and your notecards on the first Friday of first semester (September 2, 2016). All students are expected to submit these books and assignments to Ms. Booth by this date, regardless of which semester they are enrolled in AP Lit. These materials will be graded.

Basic class supplies needed include: one 3-ring binder (1-1.5 inch is fine; no need for a giant one), dividers, college rule loose-leaf paper (lots), highlighters, blue or black pens, colored pens or pencils in at least three colors, a composition book, and post its.

Contact me if you have any questions about the materials or assignments. I look forward to our time together.
